KEYMACRO for Windows is a free and easy to use program that allows you to create virtual keystrokes, without needing to actually write the key down. You can use it to record macros on your keyboard, such as creating a new email address with one single keystroke, converting the hexadecimal into decimal, or creating a new backup image with one single keystroke. To create a macro in KEYMACRO for Windows, you can simply press any key on your keyboard and the program will search for any specific text string that you type. This can be anything you want and you don't even need to be exact. After finding the text string, you will see the full ASCII code for the key pressed on the screen, as well as the hexadecimal code in the upper-left corner. The program will generate a full macro that you can copy and paste into any text-editing program, such as Microsoft Word, for example. You can then use this virtual keyboard to enter virtually any text you need, such as for creating new emails, passwords, URLs or notes. KEYMACRO for Windows is able to create macros for the following languages: English, French, German, Dutch, Spanish and Portuguese. If you run into any trouble or just want to get some help with the program, you can always access the help menu, which will guide you through any problem you may encounter. Key features: - Supports multiple languages - Includes two popular open-source packages for managing macros: KMACRO and AutoHotKey - Includes a virtual keyboard for generating macros - Works without having to write down the key - Allows for the viewing of the full ASCII code for the pressed key - Generates a full macro to copy and paste into any text-editing software - Generates a MACRO file with all the macros it has stored Keymacro 1.2 License: Keymacro 1.2 is distributed under the GNU General Public License, version 2.0. Keymacro 1.2 Download Link: ... the user interface is fairly simple and most of the options are available from the main screen. Moreover, when you download the software, the file download will tell you in the download manager where the download has actually finished. This is a great feature 2edc1e01e8
